Foreword

"What fun we had in those days!" You may be saying that many years from now. So in order that you will not forget what "those days" were like, we have tried to capture the spirit of "those days" for you by means of this yearbook.

From those crazy modern expressions to the happy-go-lucky jitterbug we hope that this yearbook is "strictly on the beam."

A MESSAGE FROM THE SCHOOL BOARD

It is a great privilege to be chosen to serve as a member of the school board of Elizabethtown Borough. We deeply appreciate the responsibility of our task. It is our duty to determine the policies and provide the equipment, supplies, and teachers for training the young people of our borough. We feel that we have done this within the reasonable limits of our desires and the financial ability of our district.

We fervently hope that our young people will take full advantage of the opportunities that our school system offers. To the high school pupils and especially to those who are looking forward to graduation at the close of this school term we offer this admonition: do well the work that you have to do, for in so doing you render a useful service to yourself, your school, your community, and your country.

SCHOOL BOARD OF ELIZABETHTOWN BOROUGH

PRINCIPALS

T. H. EBERSOLE
Supervising Principal

To the Class of 1944:

Your sojourn in high school has come to an end. As you go forth, you will be confronted with the many perplexing problems involved in fighting a victorious war and in making a just and lasting peace. The world challenges you to contribute your highest intelligence and stoutest efforts to the solution of these problems. It is the fervent hope of your fellow-students, your teachers, and your parents that you will apply yourselves diligently to the making of a better world.

May success crown your efforts and good fortune be your lot.

T. H. EBERSOLE
Supervising Principal

To the Class of 1944:

Congratulations for preparing such an interesting and helpful publication. This tenth edition, with such a graphic representative of school organizations, activities, and personnel, will give your parents and friends a better understanding of our school. It will help former graduates recall treasured memories of their Alma Mater. With this pictorial presentation of student activities, you, the Class of 1944, have made possible a publication which will become even more valuable as time goes by. May it ever help you recall your former classmates and teachers, your curricular activities and experiences, during your brief stay at E.H.S.

W. E. WEAVER
High School Principal

WILBUR E. WEAVER
High School Principal

FACULTY

T. H. Ebersole

The supervising principal of our schools is Mr. T. H. Ebersole. Mr. Ebersole received his A.B. degree at Franklin and Marshall College and his M.A. degree at Columbia University.

Erma M. Bell

Miss Bell is one of our commercial education teachers. She is one of the Elizabethan News advisors and she advised the commercial staff of the yearbook. Miss Bell attended Elizabethtown College, where she received her B.S. degree in commercial education.

Bertha Belser

Our school owes most of its musical success to Miss Belser, our music supervisor. Miss Belser attended Millersville State Teachers College and Cornell University.

Wayne B. Blouch

Mr. Blouch teaches problems of democracy and civics. He attended Millersville State Normal School and Elizabethtown College where he received his A.B. degree. He also took some extra work at the University of Pennsylvania.

May Dulebohn

Miss Dulebohn teaches algebra and geometry and is one of the Tri-Hi-Y advisors. She attended Millersville State Teachers College and Elizabethtown College where she was awarded her A.B. degree.

Norman E. Diehl

Mr. Diehl teaches geography and seventh grade mathematics. He is the advisor of the Air Service Division of the Victory Corps and of the Junior Hi-Y. Mr. Diehl attended Elizabethtown College where he received his B.S. degree.

Alton H. Eppler

Mr. Eppler teaches general science, senior science, machines and electricity, and seventh grade mathematics. Quite a list, isn't it? He is assistant coach of athletics. Mr. Eppler received his B.S. degree at Kutztown State Teachers College.

Norma M. Ferguson

The girls' health and physical education teacher is Miss Ferguson. She also has charge of the Indoor Patrol. Her pet saying is "Girls, must I tell you again to stop talking?" She received her B.S. degree at West Chester State Teachers College.

Charles E. Goodhart

Our class advisor, and one of the teachers who has helped to make this yearbook and our newspaper a success, is Mr. Goodhart. He is the director of the Victory Corps and an assistant athletic coach. Mr. Goodhart teaches industrial arts. He received his B.S. degree at Millersville State Teachers College.

Ethel L. Kindig

Miss Kindig teaches ninth and tenth grade English. She was the literary staff advisor of the yearbook and she did much toward making our Elizabethan News a success. Miss Kindig received her A.B. degree at Gettysburg College.

Noah Klauss

Our very capable orchestra director is Mr. Klauss. He comes to our school every Tuesday and Friday to give music lessons and for Junior and Senior Orchestra rehearsals. Mr. Klauss is a member of the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra.

FACULTY

Miriam L. Mengel

Miss Mengel teaches Latin and French and has charge of the library. She also coached the Junior Play. She received her A.B. degree at Lebanon Valley College and her M.A. degree at New York University.

Katie O. Miller

Miss Miller teaches history and is one of the Tri-Hi-Y advisors. She attended Millersville State Normal School. Miss Miller will not tolerate inattention in class, and "That's all about it."

Mabel J. Miller

Miss Miller teaches guidance and seventh and eighth grade history. She is also the head of the Junior Dramatic Club. Miss Miller attended Lebanon Valley College where she received her A.B. degree.

M. Dolores Quinn

Miss Quinn is our art teacher. She is the Junior Tri-Hi-Y advisor and is one of the Elizabethan News advisors. She also had charge of the art staff of the yearbook. Miss Quinn received her B.S. degree at Indiana State Teachers College.

Henrietta R. Roe

Miss Roe teaches chemistry, physics, and biology. She claims that chemistry is "really very simple," but not all her chemistry students agree. She received her B.S. degree at State Teachers College in Trenton, New Jersey, and her Master of Education degree at the University of New Hampshire.

Virginia B. Rohrer

Mrs. Rohrer, better known to us as Miss Brewer, teaches home economics. She is one of the advisors of the Victory Corps and the newspaper. Mrs. Rohrer received her B.S. degree at Indiana State Teachers College.

Willis E. Seiders

We owe our thanks to Mr. Seiders for coaching our Senior Play and helping to make it a success. He is also the eleventh and twelfth year English teacher. Mr. Seiders received his B.S. degree at the University of Pennsylvania.

Robert E. Seltzer

Mr. Seltzer, one of our new teachers this year, teaches mathematics and ninth grade Latin. He attended Bloomsburg State Teachers College and he received his A.B. and M.S. degrees at Pennsylvania State College.

Robert J. Trimble

Mr. Trimble teaches seventh and eighth grade English. He is also the Hi-Y advisor. Mr. Trimble attended Elizabethtown College where he received his A.B. degree.

Wilbur E. Weaver

Mr. Weaver is our high school principal, and he also teaches commercial subjects. He is faculty manager of athletics. Mr. Weaver received his B.S. degree at Elizabethtown College and his Master of Education degree at Temple University.

John J. Windish

Mr. Windish, our new head coach, teaches health and physical education. He also has charge of the Outdoor Patrol. Mr. Windish received his B.S. degree in health and physical education at West Chester State Teachers College.

ALMA MATER 1944

ANNA JEAN HILSHER

JOANN HERR

We with hearts that are brave and true Leave her classmates to go out a-lone
We'll de-part but we'll soon re-call All the good old days of our dear school

We'll for the best e'er strive to — do In a future that is quite un-Known
We'll cher-ish mem-ories from her — halls As we go in to the world so cruel

May our goal al-ways be suc-cess As we go out to re-turn no more
Backward glanc-es we must con-fess E'er re-mind us of the days of yore

We'll not for-get thee dear E H S the class of forty four
So now we'll leave thee dear E H S the class of forty four

CLASS COLOR: Crimson and Steel Gray
CLASS FLOWER: American Beauty Rose
CLASS MOTTO: Our Goal—A Free Tomorrow

PAUL STETTLER
President

Paul is the fellow who holds the president's seat in our class. A well-liked fellow and a good businessman, he is deserving of this position.

REED SEIDERS
Vice-President

Reed, class president for two years, this year holds the position of vice-president. A very capable aide to Paul and a good leader, our class cannot go wrong with him in office.

NANCY FORNEY
Secretary

Nancy, neat and efficient, holds the office of secretary of our class. We feel sure the records of our meetings will be up to date and accurate with Nancy in charge of them.

VERNON BRICKER
Treasurer

Vernon, good mathematician, careful worker, and efficient, is the treasurer of the class. With Vernon as treasurer, our accounts can't be wrong.

FRED G. AUCH

Gus, the spaghetti and meatball fan of the class, is the wit of the College Preparatory course. He is a member of the yearbook staff, and was in the Senior Class play. Gus gets a thrill out of women, and he wants to join the Navy. He gets a kick out of saying, "Right in the eye." Very sharp boy, Gussie. Hope your luck holds out, kid.

MADELINE BAILEY

Maddie, a blonde number of the Class of 1944, chose the Commercial course. She proved her ability in this field by being the secretary of the Tri-Hi-Y. Almost any time you can hear Maddie say, "I just took some dictation for Mr. Weaver." She is on the yearbook and newspaper staffs. Her ambition is to be a secretary, but if a certain Pfc. with brown wavy hair comes home, WELL!!! Maddie's favorite saying is "No, I ain'tcha."

BETTY J. BOLL

Betz is one of the divinely tall girls in our class, and we are inclined to believe that this asset, together with her brilliance, will contribute greatly toward her ambition of becoming a successful private secretary. Likes to study! That's Betz. She's looking for an available six-footer, and we know she'll surely find him. Her hearty cooperation in school activities and her willingness to help in the classroom will certainly be missed by all of us.

HAROLD R. BOLL

Move it over! Here comes our future sailor in his Ford, cowboying again. His car seems to be a favorite, for usually ten boys can be seen piling out of it at one time. Bollie is tackle on the football team and does well in bowling, too. "We hit it right in the eye" when we say that Bollie's favorite dish is brunettes. Sometimes we wonder if it isn't just plain girls.

HAROLD R. BRANDT

Hear that swing music? Yeh man! It's Hal on that sax, and do we love it! He's a snappy dresser in the first section and gives his opinion in Hi-Y. Oh yes! His activities are varied and they include basketball, Mixed Chorus, All-state Band, and the Victory Corps. Hal's our future aircraft radio operator. "Dad! May I have the car tonight?" Which one is it, Hal?

GEORGE I. BRENNEMAN

George is the fellow who gets a thrill out of the Masonic Homes. As his course in school he chose the Academic. As for extracurricular activities, he is a member of the yearbook staff, chorus, and basketball team. He is determined to be a Navy flight surgeon, but not a bachelor. As a fellow who is a good leader and businessman, there is no doubt about his life being successful.

VERNON J. BRICKER

Vern's hobby is sports. He stars on the football, baseball, and basketball teams. He has capably filled the office of Senior class treasurer, and he is a member of the Elizabethan staff. Vern is quiet, but he is willing to join in school activities and all school fun. He gets a great thrill from riding in Boll's Ford. Is it the speed, or just what is it that thrills him? His ambition is to join the Army Air Cadets.

EVELYN M. BRINSER

Evelyn is the talkative member of the class. A former member of the Glee Club, she now lends her talents to the Mixed Chorus. Her thoughts run between piano playing and that certain soldier boy. She hopes to become a nurse some day, although she has a tough time in chemistry class. She is always saying "Golly Neds!" and she relishes a plate of ice cream. Evelyn is active in Tri-Hi-Y and is liked by everyone.

K. JEAN BROSEY

Jeanie has dark flashing eyes and dark brown hair. She is taking the Commercial course and also devotes her time to Tri-Hi-Y, chorus, yearbook staff, Girls' Glee Club, and the Victory Corps. Jeanie's heart yearns for travel and her hobby is playing the piano. Oh, how she does dream! Jean never wants to be a bookkeeper. Are you kidding? She is interested in a mysterious lad named Robert.

JOE V. BROWN

Joe is a talented Commercial student. His ambition is to be a forest ranger and not a factory worker. There are three things that make Joe say "That's smooth — — ": scouting, camping, and a fried ham dinner. Joe helped to keep the colors of the high school flying by being active in football, baseball, and patrol. When Joe becomes a forest ranger he'll surely keep those fires out.

SHIRLEY M. BRUBAKER

Shuss is taking the College Preparatory course but wants to become a beautician. She is quiet, enjoys reading, and likes chocolate cake immensely. Shirley is a member of the Mixed Chorus and Tri-Hi-Y. She is thrilled by French classes and is determined not to be a school teacher. Usually she can be caught saying, "Oh, for heavens sake," on her way around the school. Formerly, Shuss spent half her time riding on the bus.

ETHEL E. CHAPMAN

Chappy is one of our future nurses. A certain guy in the Navy holds her heart, so maybe the sailors will acquire another nurse. Chappy spends her free evenings listening to the radio and records, let's hope Harry James. Along with this, her evenings are occupied with letter-writing. Long, sweet ones. You will never find her gossiping over the back fence, as she will never transfer false rumors. Roast duck is her dish.

HARRIET DAGGETT

Harriet is a small, active, brunette member of our class. She is determined not to be an old maid and she won't be as long as HE is around. She is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y and the newspaper staff. Harriet is an active member of the Victory War Savings Corps and she is also a loyal member of the Girls' Glee Club. Harriet has taken the Vocational Home Economics Course. Good luck to you, Harriet!!

WALT R. DIFFENDERFER

"Come on, Buick." That's Diff coaxing his buggy to start. Diff is a brilliant member of the Academic section and he was really tops in the aviation cadet test. As an active member of the yearbook staff, newspaper staff, and chorus, Diff is always busy. He likes the music of Artie Shaw's orchestra and the flavor of cherry pie and ice cream. He has chosen chemical engineering to be his life's work.

CATHERINE WITMER DONLEY

Kitty is a small dark-haired girl who is taking the Vocational Home Economics course. Her one and only thrill answers to the name of Warren. Now Kitty has a gold ring on her third finger, left hand which was placed there by Warren. She's often heard saying, "Do you know what?" Her favorite dish is chili con carne. She belongs to the Tri-Hi-Y, Girls' Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, and the yearbook and newspaper staffs. Kitty has been Mr. Seiders' secretary for the past two years.

BETTY DOOLITTLE

Betty is the tall girl of our class with many friends. She enjoys driving around in a Ford and going to Mt. Joy. Betz is determined not to be an eavesdropper. Her aim is to become an Army nurse. She enjoys listening to the radio and swimming. Betty is a very active member of the Tri-Hi-Y, and of the literary staff of the Elizabethan.

PHYLLIS ROMAINE DUNNICK

Phyl is a College Preparatory student. Her ambition is to be an Army nurse and she is determined not to be a housewife? ? ? Her smile should bring her luck in whatever she attempts. She is often heard saying, "Do you know your French?" She is often seen either reading or bicycle riding. Her thrill is being Miss Ferguson's mail carrier and she likes good food. As chaplain of the Tri-Hi-Y she performed her duties well.

EDITH M. ECKROTH

Edie is interested in the Seabees, especially a certain six-foot, blue-eyed Bob. She is taking the Commercial course and is the general office assistant. She is the one whose business it has been to chase the halls twice a day to collect the attendance slips. Edie is a member of the Mixed Chorus, Tri-Hi-Y, and the yearbook staff. Remember Elsie in the Junior Class play? ? She is determined not to be an old maid and we know that Bob will take care of that.

HOWARD ENCK

Junior is fond of sports and is very active on the football, basketball, and baseball teams. When he is in the game he hits the opposing team "right in the eye." He enjoys hiking and riding in Boll's Ford and is especially interested in something or someone in Mt. Joy or its vicinity. He despises the thought of becoming a school teacher. Don't worry, kid, if your ambition is to join the Navy, I am sure Uncle Sam will take you.

LOUISE ROSELYN FISHER

Weazie is a College Preparatory student. She is a pretty little blonde. She belonged to the Dramatic Club and later proved her talent in the Junior Play. She doesn't want to fail in any project she attempts. She is determined not to be a nurse. When she is not with a tall, dark lad, known as "Junior," she is either reading or eating potato chips. Weazie is often heard saying, "That's a matter of opinion." She sings for the Tri-Hi-Y and many other activities. Good luck, Weazie.

NANCY P. FORNEY

One of our most attractive girls is Nance. Nance is our best cheerleader but always has her eye on a certain No. 35 blond football player. Her ambition is to become a Navy nurse. We wondered why so many fellows were going into the Navy. If you want to see Nance, she can be found riding around in a 1931 blue Buick. If you wish to take her to dinner, anything will be all right with her.

LOIS GANTZ

When speaking of attractive brunettes, Lois always seems to rate first on the list in our class. Her main interest centers in the Air Force, especially concerning black hair and eyes. Obviously her outstanding hobby is writing letters. Lois greatly enjoys eating spaghetti. Lois has proven her interest in music by being an active member in our Glee Club and Mixed Chorus. After noticing those deep waves in her hair, we know she will become a successful beautician.

RUTH G. GIBBLE

Ruthie is quiet, but oh my! She's interested in a certain Guy and we suppose that's why her thrill is riding over bumpy roads in a Chrysler. However, her one great ambition is to earn enough money so that she can become a popular piano teacher. Ruth has shown much initiative in the art staff of the Elizabethan and she is also an active member of the Tri-Hi-Y and the Victory Corps.

MARIAN K. HEAGY

Ditty is one of the twins in our class. You probably don't know which one, but you'll learn. Ditty wants to dish out medicine and take temperatures and she'll do it very well, because she is determined not to be a failure. Often Ditty moans, "Oh my gosh, P. D. class is such a thrill, but I'd rather eat spaghetti." Our feelings are mutual, Ditty.

MILDRED K. HEAGY

Ditty wants to be a nurse and to do this she had to take the College Preparatory course. This is her third year in the Tri-Hi-Y and her first in the Mixed Chorus. Her thrill is to get a good mark in an examination. Ditty likes to say, "Oh, heavens," and her favorite filler-upper is chocolate cake. Where Ditty goes, the other Ditty Heagy is sure to follow. Just natural? Certainly!!

MARIE HEILMAN

Marie is a girl who possesses a large amount of common sense. As a member of the Library Staff, Junior Play business staff, and yearbook staff, and as feature editor of the Elizabethan News, she has done much for our school. Although she is a member of the Commercial section, she hopes never to be a secretary. Her ambition is to travel and her favorite pastime is dancing and eating French fries and steak.

RICHARD HEISEY

Richard, the fireman, gets a thrill out of hearing "that fire siren" and everywhere the fire truck goes Richard will be sure to follow. He's determined to find a place in the business world and we're sure he will succeed. His interests vary from food to card games. We wonder with whom he plays cards. When you hear, "That's rough," Richard is near by.

BETTY HERR

Betty is a quiet student in the Commercial department. She is very studious and enjoys reading good books. Betty knows her bookkeeping like she does the alphabet. Just call on Betty for help and you will go away well satisfied. Because she dislikes factory work she has decided to become a secretary. Anytime you want to make Betty hungry, just mention chicken.

JANE E. HERR

Janie is a quiet girl with brown hair and a lovely personality. Her chief delight is receiving letters from her brother who is in the South Pacific. We wonder if it is her brother! Whenever skating is good, you can find Janie at the lake, gliding over the ice. Her interests at school are divided between the Mixed Chorus and the Tri-Hi-Y. She seems to dote on her brother, for she's always saying "Oh, brother!"

JOANN HERR

Jo is an excellent pianist and an active member of the Girls' Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, and Tri-Hi-Y. She has very pretty hair, but she hates to hear any comments made about the color. I wonder why? She admires boys with broad shoulders, dark curly hair, and blue eyes. She chose the College Preparatory course because her ambition is to study music. She declares that she will never become a school teacher. "Gee willikers," her favorite dish is cherry pie à la mode.

THELMA HERSHEY

Thelma's heart-throb is in the Navy. But we feel safe in saying that, in the near future, Thelma will become a private secretary in an outstanding firm. She has thoroughly convinced us of that fact by her complete knowledge of bookkeeping. The cooperation and interest she has shown in the activities of the Tri-Hi-Y have assured us of her ability to advance in the business world.

ANNA JEAN HILSHER

The little girl with the sweet voice is Anna. She took the Academic course and is busy with her fancy work, Bible study, and Glee Club. She is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y and the Library Staff. Her ambition is to be a teacher and she certainly doesn't want to be a factory worker. Her favorite saying is "My word!" Anna, if your work is as good as you are, you won't have to worry about that teaching position.

PERRY W. HIPPLE

"Hi-ya, Doc." Another dark-eyed sailor is our Pete, whose thrill, incidentally, is women, although he is determined not to be a husband. When he is around, we assure you that things will not be dull. Pete collects miniatures and we heard that if you have an extra pin or ring, you won't have it long if Pete knows about it. What about that ring, Pete?

BETTY J. HOLLINGER

If you ever hear anyone mention Bob you'll know it's Holly talking about that beau again. She lends her time to Mixed Chorus, Tri-Hi-Y (where she keeps an eye on Miss Miller), being a patrolman, and doing yearbook write-ups. Holly wants to be a secretary, but she's determined not to be a bookkeeper. Don't look now—Holly's sleeping again, dreaming about blonds and fried ham. "Perhaps!"

RAY HUMMER

Ray was the tall, quiet boy in our Senior class. He was well liked by everyone and could usually be found doing favors or errands. These consisted of such things as delivering Miss Dulebohn's plants to and from school at the opening and closing of the school year. Ray was active in the Mixed Chorus and Boys' Chorus. Everyone wished Ray loads of luck when he left for the Army in November.

DORIS L. JACOBS

Dot, one of our jitterbugs, can be found at all the dances, unless there is a certain boy named Bender home on leave. Her ambition is to go to California. We wonder what attracts her there. She is determined not to be a teacher. To win her heart, buy her a spaghetti dinner. Dot can usually be found in or around the Town Pharmacy. If you hear "Are you kidding," Dot can usually be found behind it.

EDITH JOHNS

Edith is one of our girls from the Masonic Homes who is active in the Mixed Chorus, indoor patrol, and as a reporter for the Elizabethan News. Edith is yearning to become a successful medical secretary and, if she continues the work she has demonstrated in our Commercial Department, there is no doubt that she will reach her goal. But one suggestion, Edith, please spare that gum.

E. LOIS KAYLOR

Shorty is popular with both boys and girls and always has a smile for everyone. She takes the Commercial course and really goes to town in typing class. Her ambition is to be an airplane pilot, although her interests now run among the Navy, swimming, and moonlight horseback riding. Shorty is active in Mixed Chorus, Tri-Hi-Y, Tumbling Club, yearbook staff, and the Victory Corps. She's usually saying, "Boy, you ain't kiddin'!" or is busy eating a hamburger.

MELVA M. KAYLOR

Melva is the girl from the country, better known as Mel, except in P. D. classes, where she answers to Velma. She is active in Tri-Hi-Y, Fancy Work Club, and Home Economics Club, but her interest lies in horseback riding and soldiers. Although she is now a waitress at the Farm Diner, she hopes to become a nurse some day. Mel is always saying, "That's for sure." She can usually be found with a smile on her face and a hamburger in her hand.

FAYE R. KOSER

If you hear a babble of voices, you can assure yourself that Kurly is one of the leaders. She likes to talk, dance, raise cain, and chew gum. Kurly is quite active in the Mixed Chorus, Tri-Hi-Y, yearbook staff, Elizabethan News staff, and indoor patrol. Her ambition is to become a private secretary and she's determined not to be an old maid. Kurly just loves to go "Moose" hunting. Her favorite saying is: "To the raw deal." Remember Angelina in our Junior class play?

DAVID KRAYBILL

Dave hates to be called Shorty. I suppose that there is a reason. He has been made manager of the football team and he is also interested in baseball. By the way, he is one of those tenors in Mixed Chorus. Dave is a good commercial student, but oh, how he hates shorthand. He would like to become a successful businessman but he finds the thought of being a secretary a wee bit boring.

FAYE H. KREINER

Did you hear a strange noise this morning? That must have been Flash coming to school on her motorbike. Fun-loving, talkative, and blushing describes Faye to a "T." Her favorite topics are the 4-H Club, baby beefs, and pigs. She is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, Girls' Glee Club, Library Staff, and yearbook staff. She hopes to become a music teacher, but she never wants to sing opera. She's always saying, "Are you kiddin'?"

BLANCHE V. LARSON

Have any broken bones? Our pleasant little technician will help you out. Blanche, is that chewing gum good, or are you just thinking of tall boys? By the way, how are you coming along with your accordion down at the U.S.O.? We're sure those boys love it. Blanche is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, indoor patrol, and the literary staff of the yearbook.

BRUCE LAUDENSLAGER

Bruce is one of the woman-haters of our class. He excels in athletics. Bruce's punting pulled our gridiron eleven out of many a tough scrape. When Bruce joins the Marines, we are sure he will get enough hikes. He is determined not to be a doctor. Bruce's thrill is a ride in Boll's Ford. He likes anything that is good to eat. We hope Bruce gets over his bashfulness.

WILLIAM ROY MOOSE

Bill is active on the football and basketball teams and a member of the Hi-Y. He seems to be quite a woman-hater, for he is not so easily attracted by that small brunette of the Senior class. When Bill isn't sleeping, he can be found at the bowling alley. Here's hoping that when you're in the Marines, Bill, you are granted your favorite dish, Veronica Lake with ice cream.

BESSIE McCLURG

Where's all the laughing coming from? Who said "Who're you telling?" It could be Bess. Bessie is one of the jolly members of the Commercial section and a faithful, conscientious one at that. She is a member of the Victory Corps, Tri-Hi-Y, patrol, and newspaper staff. Her ambition is to become a public health nurse. The typing room will never be the same when Bess leaves and takes her giggles with her.

ROBERT F. NISSLEY

Bob is the member of our class who appears to be quiet, but when you learn to know him you will change your mind. With his strong sense of humor he is the life of the crowd. He is a member of the Hi-Y, Victory Corps, Mixed Chorus, and Boys' Chorus. Bob's ambition is to become a journalist and we know he will be a good one, as he is determined not to be a dope.

JANET M. PAINTER

Dolly is a small, light-haired girl found in the Commercial department. Reading seems to be her favorite hobby. She never wants to be found drudging away in the shoe factory. Her favorite food is chicken. Can we blame her? Her ambition is to be a secretary, and we are all certain that she will be a real success in the business world.

JONAS SAMUEL PARRETT

That tall, dark, and handsome boy of our class is none other than Sam. He likes all sports and is on our football, basketball, and baseball teams. He is the president of the Hi-Y and rings out those bass notes in Mixed Chorus. Sam's biggest thrill is 618 South Market Street and that certain blonde to whom he often says, "You like that, huh?" His ambition is to become a coach or a physical education instructor.

DALE L. PEIFFER

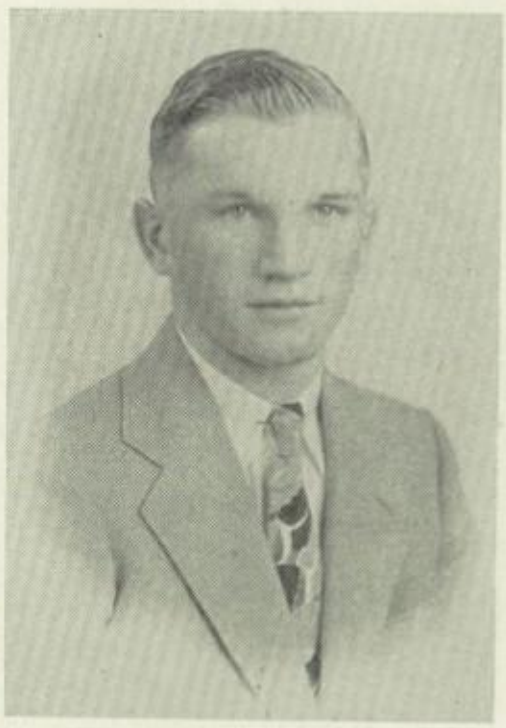
Pippy's hobbies are training dogs and going hunting. He wants to be a post-war dentist. He's not going to be a second John L. Lewis if he can help it. His thrill is riding in Boll's Ford and eating anything in the line of food. When there's excitement you'll hear Pippy say, "Dear me!" Although Pippy spends most of his time with a certain ninth grader, he managed to be in the Junior and Senior Plays.

CARL T. RAFFENSPERGER

Carl seems particularly interested in his course this year. Could it be that pretty blonde member of the class? Gives out with tenor voice in Mixed Chorus and Boys' Chorus. His ambition is to be a businessman. Carl is an active member of the Hi-Y, photographer for the yearbook, and trumpeter in the orchestra. He answers to the name of Beetle and is always around if there's chicken on the table.

HARVEY EDWARD REEM

Yea Team! And another basket is scored by Reemie, who is our star basketball player. He is usually seen riding around in Boll's Ford and enjoying it immensely. His rich tenor voice adds to the volume of the Mixed Chorus and his ability to draw adds greatly to the beauty of our school. Have you heard the drums in the Senior Orchestra? That's Reemie! His ambition is to be a coach and, considering all his athletic qualities, he can't fail!



NANCY M. REHRER

Nan is our best rollerskater. She likes water because sailors and water go together. Nan is very active in the Home Economics field and some day will make that sailor a good housekeeper. How about it, Nan? Anyone interested in miniatures will find Nan has a very fine collection. Her one ambition is to be a textile buyer. Nan plays the piano with almost the same enthusiasm as she eats chicken. Are we right, Nan?

JEAN LOUISE RICE

Gay and carefree, "Jeanie with the light brown hair" is taking the Commercial course. She aims to be a secretary. Jean is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y and she enjoys reading books and receiving letters. Her heart is with a certain member of the Coast Guard. How about that, Jean? Jean can eat spaghetti and meatballs any old time. She has a swell sense of humor and keeps 'em smiling.

BETTY JEAN RISSER

Fritz is an active member of the Tri-Hi-Y, Girls' Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, yearbook staff, and is sports editor of the Elizabethan News. She loves to have fun and dance and she admires tall men. She often sighs and says, "Oh, that man!!!" Fritz wants to join the Navy Cadet Nurse Corps. She insists that she will never become a reckless driver. She likes to ask the ouija board questions, just to see what it will tell her. I hope it always tells her something she likes.

HERMAN J. RISSER

Riss loves to have a good time, especially in P. D. classes. He is active on the football and basketball teams and is a member of the Hi-Y and yearbook staff. He is very much interested in a tall blue-eyed blonde in the Sophomore class. "You can say that again," says Riss. He has beautiful teeth (at least Miss Miller thinks so), and can he speak French!!!! His ambition is to become a Naval Air Cadet.

CHARLES E. ROLAND

Chas can tell you anything about electricity or radio that you may want to know. Tall, dark, and usually quiet, he may often be seen with fingers flying over the keys of his licorice stick. We hope he never gets confused. Chas must have over a hundred excuse cards by now. These were given to him for one reason only: for being tardy! He's determined to be an electronic engineer and we know he'll succeed.

MARY LOUISE RUTTER

Mary, one of our true blondes, will someday make a very capable nurse. At present she will concentrate on a certain Bob who has her heart in storage. She can often be seen in a blue Chevrolet, usually parked on Poplar Street. If she doesn't agree with you, she will tell you so by saying, "Horse feathers!" To win her heart, just give her some good, wholesome food. Mary's one determination is to stay young and attractive.

JOHN L. SCHWANGER

Whitey is the co-captain of our football team and is greatly interested in sports and a certain brunette in our class. He is a member of the Hi-Y and has ambitions to become a mechanical engineer. He enjoys camping and thrills at the mention of not working on Tuesdays. Give your salvage to the Boy Scouts, for Whitey is the one to collect it. The way to Whitey's heart is through his stomach; he is always wondering, "What is there to eat?"

BETTY SEIBERT

Si can be found in the Commercial department. She is a constant companion of fun and laughter. When it comes to her thrills, it's blond-haired boys. Her favorite question is "Did you see Bob?" She is quite a good roller-skater as well as a good tumbler. She is a member of the yearbook staff. Determined not to be an old maid, Si has picked secretarial work as her vocation.

REED E. SEIDERS

The man with the bass fiddle! That's Si, whose interests vary from girls to eating chicken. We all thought Si was going to be a future butcher, but he surprised us by deciding to enlist in the Air Force. More power to him! Si, who has a hearty laugh and a way with girls, can best be remembered because of his performance in the Junior Play. Especially in the love scene with Pat!

LOVINABELLE SHAFFER

Dolly is often heard singing cowboy songs or playing her guitar at Tri-Hi-Y meetings. Unselfishly, she also uses her talents in the Girls' Glee Club. Very often she is seen zooming by in her car. Since she's determined not to be stuck-up, she has a sociable smile for everyone, especially when the topic of conversation is centered around that blue-eyed sailor who gave her the sparkler.

MABEL E. SHANK

Toots, our Home Economics whiz, has a great ambition to demonstrate her ability in this line to a certain fellow in our class. If this isn't possible, her second choice is to become an aviatrix. If anyone is heard repeating the expression "That's for sure," it is most undoubtedly Toots. She is an active member of the Victory Corps and the literary staff. The class is confident in saying that she'll be a success.

ROBERT S. SHIFFER

Shiff is the fellow who gets a thrill out of the sight of a certain brunette. Bob is usually found in study hall although he is a member of the Commercial section. He hopes to enter the Navy and to stay out of the Army. Shiff loves to sing and is seldom found silent in Mixed Chorus. He's a member of the yearbook staff and a very good dancer. It looks like a good break for the Navy.

MARGUERITE SHIRK

Maggie is a girl that is always doing something. She is very popular among the kids at school. Her thrill is blonde hair and blue eyes. Her aim is to become a Navy nurse, so she can help that sailor overseas. She was a very good cheerleader and served our class as business manager of the Junior Play. Raising heck is her hobby but everybody enjoys her presence.

BEVERLY J. SMELTZER

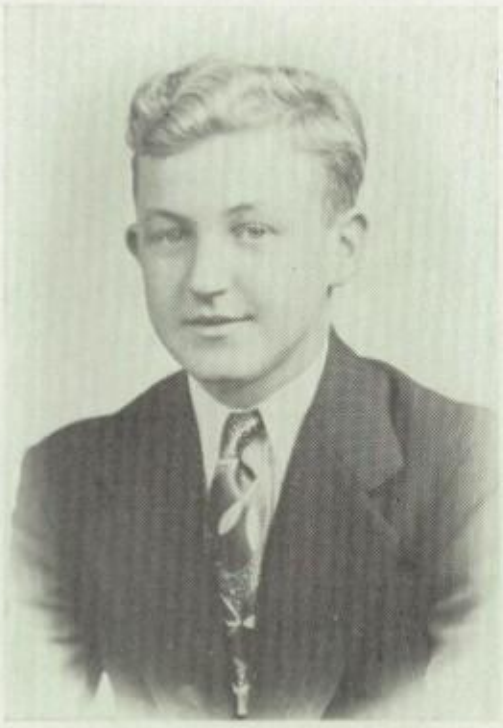
Bev, good looking and neatly dressed, can always be found doing something around the school. She is a very reliable member of the yearbook staff and is business manager of the newspaper. Although Bev is a member of the Commercial section, she is determined not to be a secretary. She has chosen as her career that of a Navy nurse. Airplanes seem to give her a thrill, although we believe it to be the pilots and not the planes.

JOHN N. STAHL

A future sailor is our "Curly." Right now you can see him tearing around with a rash, crash, and a bang, driving Wenger's delivery truck. Curly is taking the General course and is a member of the Hi-Y, Mixed Chorus, and Boys' Chorus. We wonder if Curly will get his favorite dish, apple pie and milk, in the Navy? What is it that attracts the girls to Curly? His fair complexion and broad smile? It could be his hair!

MARGARET M. STEEVER

Steve is our class violinist who has made a lasting impression by her sincerity and courage upon our class. Margaret is taking the College Preparatory course because she wants to be a psychiatrist. We know her patients will be as enthusiastic about her brown eyes and hair as we are. She is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, orchestra, and the Library and yearbook staffs. Steve excels in swimming and enjoys eating Brussels sprouts immensely.



PAUL H. STETTLER

Stet, the genius of our class, wants to be a doctor. He chose the College Preparatory course and during his second and third years of high school he was vice-president of the class. In his fourth year he became president. Paul's hobby is collecting doorknobs. He uses very good English but once in a while "What the heck!" slips out. Paul is active on the yearbook staff and basketball team.

THEDA M. SWEIGART

Theda can always be found at the head of the class. She is active in Tri-Hi-Y, Mixed Chorus, and added much of the humor to the Junior and Senior Plays. Her interest lies between cashew nuts and becoming a teacher. Always riding a bicycle or getting a thrill on the wildcat. Theda is well liked by everyone and is determined not to be a "flop." She can usually be caught saying "You're funny, too."

DORIS L. ULRICH

Doris, a very quiet girl and known to many as Sister, is really our telephone operator. For all wrong numbers, look up Doris. Doris goes for good solid music and enjoys swimming. She is a man-hater. Her main delicacy is chicken potpie. She likes to travel and some day will tell us about her adventures in a book she will publish. Let's hope for her sake that gas rationing doesn't last.

GEORGE V. WEISS

Weissy, our black-eyed Romeo, chose to follow the curriculum of the Commercial course. He has been a member of the Hi-Y for three years and a patrolman for two years. His ambition is to be a department store manager or else to join the Coast Guard. Weissy likes to say "hoot hoot" and also (confidentially, though) likes women. He can eat anything at any time.

JEAN WERKHEISER

Jean, a small, attractive girl, who is one of our great prides from the Masonic Homes, will some day make a superb nurse. Jean likes skating, but will settle for a movie starring Charles Boyer. She is a "Wimpy" girl, as her favorite dish is hamburgers with plenty of onions. She has helped to restore order in the school corridor as captain of patrol. Jean's a neat dresser and a snappy dancer.

MILDRED WERNER

Millie chose the Vocational Home Economics course but her ambition is teaching. Millie is full of fun and gets a thrill out of soldiers. As a member of the Junior Play cast, she proved her ability to act. Mildred will make an excellent housewife, for she is a good seamstress and cook and her favorite dish is hamburger with onions. Her favorite saying is "That's the last straw."

ANNA M. WHITMOYER

Ann's hobby is letter writing and she can often be found in the post office to see whether she heard from the Army or the Marines. She is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, indoor patrol, Girls' Glee Club, and Mixed Chorus. Ann is taking the Commercial course so that she may become a secretary. "I betcha kiddin'" that she would rather take in a movie or walk around town than do that bookkeeping and shorthand.

ROBERT ZINK

Tall, fair hair, gray eyes, and handsome. Bob excels in football, basketball, and scholarship. And can he dance! Bev seems to be his favorite—dancing partner??? His thrills are Saturday matinees and he eats lots of Shredded Wheat. He says he never wants to be a pedestrian. His favorite saying—"Right in the eye!" Bob is taking the College Preparatory course and hopes to be an airplane pilot. Mount Joy's loss was our gain.

CLASS POEM

O Alma Mater, brave and true!
We fondly hold today
The pleasantest of memories
Of fellowship and play.

Our carefree days were all too brief
For now we bid adieu.
We look ahead to higher spheres,
A graver course pursue.

Our school for us the way prepared
To take our place in the world.
Our gratitude to those who tried
The path to us unfurl.

As all good things come to an end,
We ever turn our gaze
Upon the higher goals beyond,
To seek a higher praise.

CLASS HISTORY

★ ★ ★

OUR PAST IN A NUTSHELL

1940–41

We were little freshmen this year, but we thought we were growing up. At least we had learned to dance a little of the latest jive even though we were a bit awkward. Those parties at Diff's shook us into a new groove, especially those fellows who were inclined to be a bit bashful.

The football team had a fair season, and we were able to sink Patton. How did our basketball team rate? Not bad at all. It finished second in the league. And last, but not least, we must not forget our excellent Junior Varsity basketball team and their strong coordination.

Later in the year our three homerooms got together and taught each other how to skate. I wonder? This event took place at Mount Gretna, a famed summer resort near by. Spring was on its way, and the senior class voted Marjorie Werkheiser May Queen for our second May Day exercises. The baseball team finished in third place this year. The seniors moved our High School up a peg when they were finally allowed to have their first dance.

1941–42

We were advancing farther now and we seemed to be proud of entering the Senior High School. We soon elected class officers who were: president, Reed Seiders; vice-president, Paul Stettler; treasurer, Vernon Bricker; and secretary, Bessie McClurg. The football team retained their moral standing when they defeated Patton for the second year in succession. The basketball team withered down to fourth place in the league, but we pledged to rate higher the coming year. The Tri-Hi-Y was permitted to have dances now, and they sponsored two, while the Hi-Y originated the brilliant idea of having a popularity contest. This was concluded by a dance, when the queen of our high school was crowned by a most humble boy of our class. What am I saying? Toward spring a new activity popped up, and in no time we were filling the air with music. In Lititz our choral groups did a grand job, and we were loved for it. And as the story goes on—the Tri-Hi-Y was delighted with the success of the first banquet they attended (Oh yeah?). The baseball team held its own and made a fine record.

1942–43

Yes, this year we were really Juniors, believe it or not. Our class officers remained the same as the preceding year. The Victory Corps was organized with special divisions under the supervision of Mr. Goodhart. The football team faded out of the picture this year, but we vowed to beat our biggest rival, Patton, in the coming year. The Junior and Senior High School had a successful campaign for selling magazine subscriptions, which greatly profited our athletic fund. The Hi-Y became ambitious and sponsored a few dances. We were a happy bunch of kids when the news reached us about our caps and pennants. Room 2 was in a real jam session at 3:45.

Our Junior Class sold candy at the games and stamps at the plays. The greatest achievement of the whole term was our Junior Class Play, "Here Comes Patricia." It was really on the beam. The Tri-Hi-Y moaned over the suggestion of having a mother and daughter banquet, so the mothers readily responded to a program and tea. The main feature of the spring season brought in the Program Dance, when we entertained our fellow schoolmates, the seniors, to whom we were soon to bid a fond farewell.

1943–44

We had reached our goal—as so-called dignified seniors. The fellows on our football team were really in good shape when the season was almost over, but in spite of that we won all the way two games. A lot of credit was given to a new member of our class, who really did a neat job of making those touchdowns. The chemistry room, as 12-1 already knows, was found in a very dirty condition but in time things really sparkled (no kidding). The Victory Corps continued its courses and met with a more worthwhile year (after a little coaxing). Our class officers remained the same with the exception of Paul Stettler becoming president, and Reed Seiders taking his former place. For another year, the Junior and Senior High School again carried on the selling of magazine subscriptions. After stiff competition the Junior High School won (after all the effort of the Senior High). Our class found the funds for the Elizabethan a bit low, so the yearbook staff sponsored a mid-year informal for its benefit. After twelve long years of hard, strenuous work, along with loads of fun, the senior class was graduated May 31, and lived, though not in a peaceful nation, ever after.

The seventh grade will make up our graduating class of 1949. They have honored the high school with their outstanding sales in the Curtis campaign and the school is proud of them. Good response and cooperation is given wholeheartedly whenever called for, which proves they have the right school spirit. A good manner of adjustment toward the new subjects and activities has been shown by all. Full response is given in the joining of the Jr. Hi-Y and Jr. Tri-Hi-Y groups. The school is proud to welcome such a group into its halls and classrooms.

The Elizabethan is the name of our yearbook, while the theme is "The Modern Age." This theme has more to it than actually greets the eye. It not only means the happy-go-lucky jitterbug, or the slang expressions, but also the life of young people in wartime and their code of living.

There are various staffs on which one may work. If you are a member of the literary staff, your life becomes one mad rush to get writeups in before the deadline. The staff member wracks her brains to find some new and clever expressions. Finally, she can sit back and enjoy the fruits of her efforts. Then the layout staff goes into action.

Have you ever wondered why the appearance of the yearbook is so neat? Credit for that goes to the layout staff. Through its good judgment, pictures are placed right-side-up instead of up-side-down.

Writeups and pictures are just minor details. Who pays for all of this? Of course, the business staff! The members of this staff know that it isn't easy to persuade a manufacturer to insert an advertisement in our yearbook. As a result they can be heard practicing some good sales talks.

The various staffs not only work individually, but they also work as one unit. The whole staff sponsored a dance, which was held at the Moose ballroom, and a basketball game to raise some money. The new and ingenious ideas used made the dance very successful. Although the men's faculty team defeated Columbia's faculty, the Junior and Senior girls defeated our own faculty in the basketball game. All in all, the yearbook staff works hard, but it has fun, too.

A new organization, always wanted, has finally been obtained. Yes, our school newspaper, published and distributed every month, was started at the beginning of this school year. With a circulation of about two hundred and seventy-five copies, the Elizabethan News was a success in its first season.

The news for the paper is obtained by various methods. Each member of the editorial staff is responsible for some type of news each month.

After the news is gotten by the reporter, he or she writes it up in story form. The advisors then proofread the material and it is typed. Again it is read and finally okayed. Then it is taken to the printer where the dummy is set up and the paper is printed for circulation.

The Elizabethan News is sent to other schools and we, in turn, receive one of their school papers. About twenty different papers are gotten in this way from other schools. These papers give us new and clever ideas and bring about friendlier relations with other schools.

All news about the former students of our high school is printed in our alumni column. We find that most of our boys are in the service and many of the girls are in college.

The members of the staff are from the high school. These people belong to either the editorial staff or to the business staff. Although the majority of the staff will be graduating this year, their vacancies will be filled by other capable workers.

JUNIOR HI Y's

Pres., John Matoney; V.-Pres., Kenneth Kniley; Sec., Leon Gassert; Treas., Samuel Singer; Chaplain, Kenneth Baker. Front Row—Russel Crossley, Paul Grubb, Elwood Allen, Taenzer Noecker, Richard Seaman, Samuel Singer, Donald Johnson, Richard Sipel, Willis Heisey, Jack Chapman. Second Row—David Newcomer, George Morris, Jack Klein, Kenneth Reighard, Earl Brubaker, James Hivner, Jack Westafer, Garland Bockey, Amos Good, Jay Walmer. Third Row—Leon Gassert, Julius Belser, Loy Gutshall, John Martin, John Schmitt, Kenneth Baker, John Hihn, Jack Matoney, Robert Hassinger.

The Junior Hi-Y is a worthy organization composed of forty members. Their officers are: president, John Matoney; vice-president, Kenneth Kniley; secretary, Leon Gassert; treasurer, Samuel Singer; and chaplain, Kenneth Baker.

Their ambition is to show the highest qualities of sportsmanship and to strive for high scholarship. They endeavor to develop Christian ideals and to seek the better things in life.

They indulge in many activities, such as fellowship meetings, church attending, hiking, and skating. These activities will help them grow mentally as well as physically.

First Row—Nancy Wagner, Esther Frey, Marian Black, Nancy Basehore, Sara Meashey, Emma Lou Koser Betty Cox, Peggy Lou Risser, Peggy Eberly. Second Row—Estelle Fitzwater, Mildred Stauffer, Shirley Matoney, Mary Matoney, Clara Betz, Jean Rutherford, Dorothy Rutherford. Third Row—Arlene Keller, Emily Morris, Forestine Weller, Phyllis Risser, Virginia Raffensperger, Sara Jane Breneman, Pearl Koser, Frances Aldinger. Fourth Row—Joy Risser, Nancy Wright, Patricia Boggs, Betty Kling, Nancy Smuck, Ruth Black, Peggy Moose, Doris Clauss, Emma Crawford.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y is a very cooperative and worthwhile organization. Its officers are: president, Esther Frey; vice-president, Virginia Raffensperger; secretary, Barbara Boggs; treasurer, Dorothy Rutherford; chaplain, Doris Clauss; assistant chaplain, Mary Jane Barley; and scribe, Marian Black.

The members of this organization are very ambitious and they engage in many activities. A birthday party was their highlight during November. They also had a fireside ceremony and a food sale. Many dances and various types of parties were arranged to carry out their aim as the Junior Tri-Hi-Y.

The purpose of this organization is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

The platform is: clean living, clean speech, clean athletics, and clean scholarship. With this ideal in view, the girls of this organization have done much to keep the standards of this school and community high.

The meetings of this club are held during the sixth period every other Tuesday afternoon. After the business is taken care of, the club is entertained by programs arranged by the program committee.

New members, usually Sophomores, are taken into the club in the fall. They become members after they have been initiated by the other members of the club.

The Mother and Daughter Banquet is the highlight of the year for the Tri-Hi-Y club. It is a social gathering which helps to create a kindred spirit among the members of the club and their mothers. By sponsoring entertainments, money is raised to have this banquet.

Some of the members of the club aided the Rotary Club by serving at the Ladies Night banquet.

The Tri-Hi-Y sold tickets for football games and, in addition, some members sell stamps and bonds at the theater.

The purpose of this organization, like that of the Tri-Hi-Y, is to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the schools and the community, high standards of Christian character.

The platform is: clean living, clean speech, clean athletics, and clean scholarship.

The members of the Hi-Y, with Mr. Trimble as their faculty advisor, met in room B, fourth period, every other Thursday afternoon. Although the number of meetings was limited, they have succeeded in accomplishing much this year.

Their first task was the initiation of the new members. With a strong feeling of brotherly love in their hearts, they decided in favor of a comparatively gentle initiation, which would last only a week. The potential members were to be adorned in the latest children's fashions, carry a lighted candle, and perform any gallant deed requested of them by the older members. This proved very amusing to the whole school as well as to the members themselves.

The Hi-Y has served the school faithfully the past year, not only by providing attractive programs at the home football games but also by sponsoring several well planned social events. The most important being the get-acquainted dance and the Halloween party and dance. Many other projects, such as a Bible study course, were successfully undertaken. They utilized all available material: the high school teachers and students, Elizabethtown College professors, local ministers, and service men home on leave.

The Community Service division under the leadership of Mrs. Rohrer, Miss Bell, and Miss Kindig completed a year of work in which many goals were attained. The achievements of the division have been great. During the year, drives were put on for the collection of vital materials needed for the war effort. The articles collected were paper, cosmetic containers, stockings, a drive for books for service men, and old razor blades. The Community Service division has proved its value to the school and community.

SCHOOL

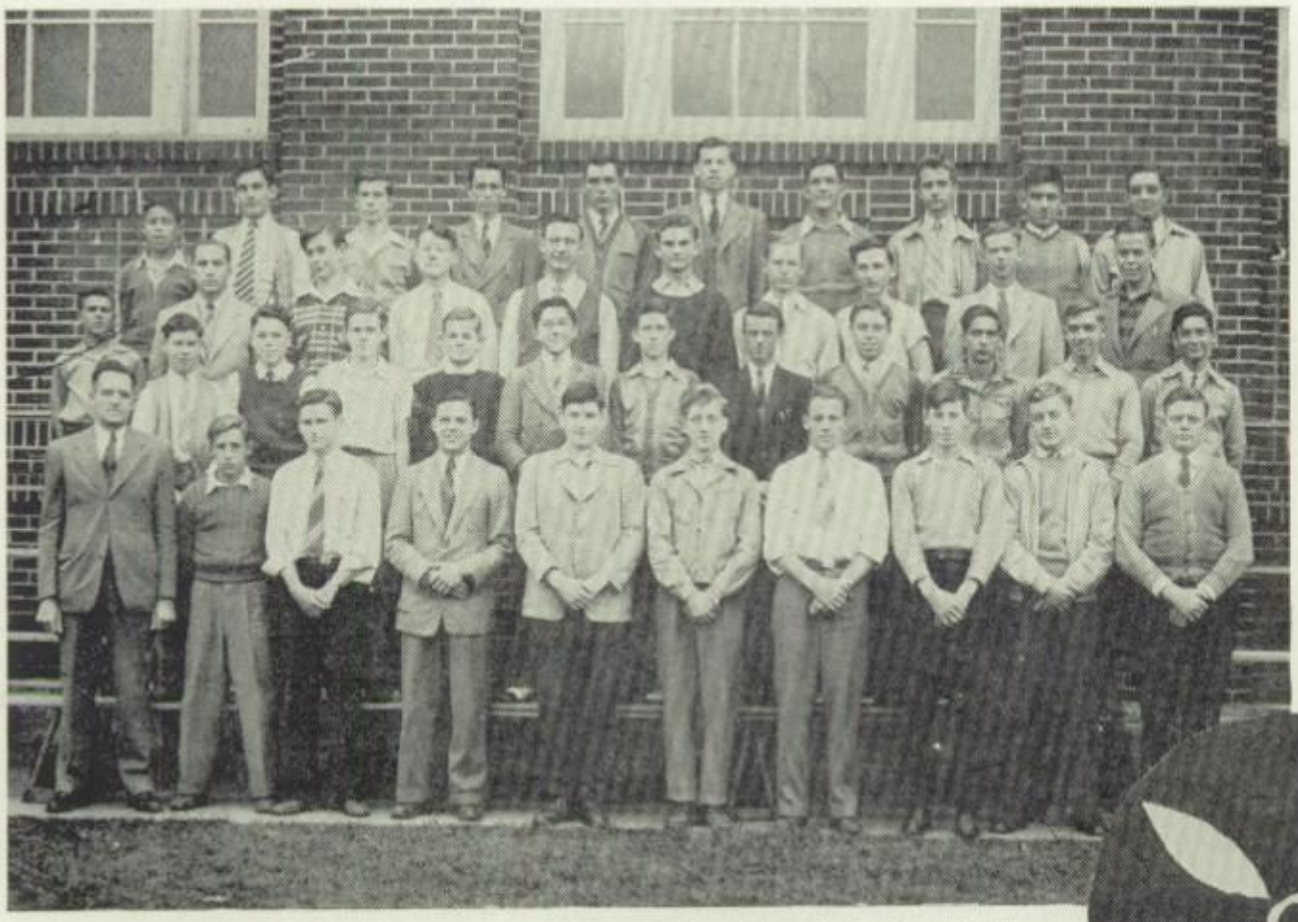
The Land Service division, directed by Mr. Windish, was engaged with the main duties of instructions to the students in this division on the fundamentals of Army life. This includes military discipline, drill, The Manual of Arms, and "The Articles of War." The course is to be of great value to the students of Elizabethtown High School who will enter the armed forces.

VICTORY



First Row—Norman E. Diehl, Charles Goodling, Robert Brandt, Robert Raffensperger, Edwin Reingold, Harry Beck, Richard Gordon, Russel Frey, Paul Stettler, Robert Hassinger. Second Row—David Kraybill, Robert Price, Amos Good, John Thompson, Ralph Gibble, James McLaughlin, Ray Kipp, James Ney, Eugene Acker, Jay Walmer, Henry Weidman. Third Row—Royce Smith, Harold Brandt, James Betz, Daniel Weller, Edgar Seip, George Breneman, John Gantz, Harold Eshelman, Jay Myers, Eugene Madeira. Fourth Row—Jack Ney, Robert Nissley, Charles Charleston, Paul Roland, Charles Roland, Leon Caron, I. Scott Hamor, Jack Hornafius, Paul Hess, Robert Kettering.

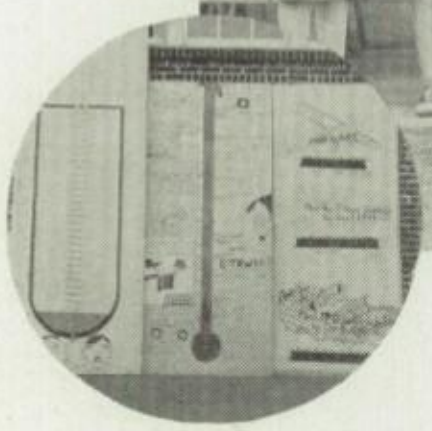
Under the leadership of an able crew and the guidance of the advisor, Mr. Diehl, the Air Service division of the Victory Corps completed a full year of school activities. During the year, the division studied a directive that included meteorology, navigation, Theory of Pre-Flight Aeronautics, and a full course on aircraft recognition. A training directive has also been mapped out for the coming year.

CORPS

First Row—Richard Seaman, Tanzer Noecker, Henry Hitz, Richard Bowman, Harold Yurkovic, Edward Bailey, George Berrier, Richard Sipel, Mr. Alton Eppler, advisor. Second Row—Samuel Singer, Leon Gassert, Raymond Sweigart, Blaine Barnhart, Harry Weidman, Carl Raffensperger, Jack Chapman, Roland Weaver. Third Row—Wayne Blecher, Richard Keller, Richard Lefever, George Weiss, James Reider, Richard Laudenslager, William Moose, William Helm.

With Mr. Eppler as advisor, the Sea Service division established a training schedule and busied itself with the duties of imparting knowledge to the future seamen from the Elizabethtown High School. The subjects taught include a large amount of theory work, military science, piloting, navigation, and small boat handling. The Sea Service division taught the subject of military courtesy, which carries its prestige in the armed forces.

SPECIAL DIVISIONS



Front Row—Miss Bell, Joan Martin, Marie Heeter, Betty Cox, Peggy Lou Risser, Mary Coble, Doris Heisey, Jean Sipling, Olive Sweigart, Elaine Frey, Jane Meckley, Mrs. Rohrer. Second Row—Harriet Daggett, Mabel Shank, Janice Weaver, Geraldine Pautz, Marilyn Rohrer, June Snyder, Doris Ream, Pearl Koser, Virginia Raffensperger, Kathleen Baugher, Ruth Daggett. Third Row—Dorothy Schwanger, Nancy Keller, Catherine Newcomer, Jane Frey, Hanna Lore Teufel, Marjorie Schuldt, Florence Grimm, Arlene Schuldt, Joyce Lesher, Jean Grubb.

The Victory War Savings Corps sends captains around to the homerooms every Wednesday for orders of stamps and bonds. There is also a stamp booth for the purchase of stamps and bonds, open morning and noon.

The goal of the V. W. S. C. is twenty-five thousand dollars for this school year. It was through the Victory War Savings Corps that we got our minute flag, flying below Old Glory on the flagpole in front of the high school building.

The Library Staff, under the direction of Miss Mengel, helps in the circulation of the books and assists the head librarian.

When members of the staff are in charge of the library, they check books and aid in reference work.

The staff meets once every two weeks, at which time they prepare the new books. This is not an easy job, for there is an average of twenty-eight hundred books and thirty-five magazines in the library.

CIVILIAN

Fire Warden, Alton H. Eppler. Front Row—Harold Barto, Clarence Collins, Sarah Whitmoyer, Mary Ellen Shank, Jane Bashore, Mary Hashem, Marie Sipel, Kathryn Nissley, Alton H. Eppler. Rear—Loy Gutshall, Wilbur Bankus, Robert Simpson, Harold Yurkovic, Roy Schectz, Bruce Laudenslager, Vernon Bricker, William Moose, Charles Roland.

The fire wardens have a large responsibility placed upon them when fire drills are carried out. They direct students out of the building and a safe distance away in as short a time as possible. The lights and windows have to be taken care of by them before they leave the building. During actual fire, the requirements of a warden are courage and self-control. These wardens are working for everyone's safety and should have the full appreciation of everyone.

DEFENSE

Chief Warden, Charles E. Goodhart; Assistants, Glenn Miller and James Ney. Front Row—Messengers—Jack Ney, Jack Westafer, Donald Hess, Richard Seaman, Warden Roland Weaver. Back Row—Messenger Russel Martin, Wardens Edwin Reingold, John Treichler, Jerwyn Gerber, Charles E. Goodhart, Glenn Miller, James Ney.

The air raid wardens are doing a remarkable job aiding and directing the students during the frequent drills we have experienced. They can be recognized by their armbands and should be obeyed because they are there to do a special duty. The wardens are posted in the halls and near the doorways to keep students orderly and quiet so that any necessary instructions can be given. These people are giving their time and energy to help others and deserve considerable recognition from all.

PATROLS

Front Row—Norma E. Ferguson, Mildred Shue, Charles Engle, Mary Ellen Shank, Naomi Kraybill, Jane Richardson, Ethel Hershey, Angeline Weicksel, Jean Engle, Faye Gainer, Kathryn Nissley, Nancy Keller. Second Row—Anna Mae Ebersole, Dorothy Schwanger, Blanche Larson, Kathleen Baugher, Nancy Gingrich, Edith Johns, Beverly Smeltzer, Velva Goodling, Anna Mary Whitmoyer, Florence Grimm, Faye Koser, Jean Werkheiser. Third Row—Edward Bailey, Betty Hollinger, David Stettler, Dorothy Slothower, James Betz, Jane Eyer, Edgar Seip, Jean Grubb, Robert Shiffer, Marguerite Shirk.

The indoor patrolmen are stationed at the door and drinking fountains to act as policemen. Under the leaders, Miss Ferguson and Captain Jean Werkheiser, they are doing a very good job in keeping the pupils in line so that they are not confronted with any conflict that may hold up classes.

Captain, Richard Keller; Lieutenants, Blaine Barnhart and Ray Sweigart. Front Row—Harold Barto, David Myers, Ronald Beck, Ray Sweigart, Richard Keller, Blaine Barnhart, Loy Gutshall, Kenneth Reighard. Second Row—Robert Heigel, Clair Garman, Robert Rice, Troy Funck, Donald Hess, George Morris, Gilbert Shirk, Abram Forney, Paul Grubb, Richard Sipel. Third Row—John Rehkugler, James McLaughlin, Russel Crossley, Jay Walmer, Charles Charleston, Robert Hassinger, Robert Lightner, Russel Martin, Robert Gordon.

The outdoor patrol members direct pupils and also traffic when there is a large group to cross the streets. They watch the younger children crossing at intersections so that their parents won't have to worry about their getting home safely. They will be well taken care of. The student body must also cooperate so as to prevent accidents.

The patrolmen under Mr. Windish are doing a very good job and deserve a great deal of credit.

CLUBS

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club, otherwise known as the "Powder and Paint Club," under the supervision of Miss Mabel Miller, is open to Junior High members only.

The club produces small one-act plays and they also learn to demonstrate the art of make-up for plays. They have occasional parties within the club period, which is every other Tuesday afternoon. They celebrate the various holidays with small parties and plays especially written for the age group.

RIFLE CLUB

Kneeling—J. Richard Myers, James Ney, Edwin Reingold, Harry Beck. Standing—James Wittle, Richard Heisey, Harry Foreman, John Treichler, Leon Caron, John Gantz, Robert Price, Royce Smith.

The rifle club is an organization under the leadership of Mr. Diehl. It endeavors to develop in young people qualities of good sportsmanship, fair play, self-control, and cooperation.

Each member masters knowledge of the parts of a rifle and how to care for them. Awards are given those who master marksmanship.

The club is a member of the National Rifle Association of Washington. For the duration they will refrain from competing with other schools as they had done other years.

On the evenings of February twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth the choruses of our school, together with the Senior Orchestra, presented a concert of music of the United Nations as chief musical event of the year. The following Sunday this same program was presented for a large and appreciative audience of guests at the Masonic Homes.

These groups also furnish music for the commencement exercises and during this school term sponsored the combined Christmas assembly program.

A small mixed ensemble brought credit to our school by presenting a one-half-hour musical program at Lancaster County teachers' institute in October.

The vocal groups in our school have two and one-half hours rehearsal each week and, according to state law, each member is thus entitled to one-half credit per year. In connection with preparing various programs during the year they study some of the fundamental principles of voice training, ensemble blending of voices, and development of tone.

PIGSKIN SEASON

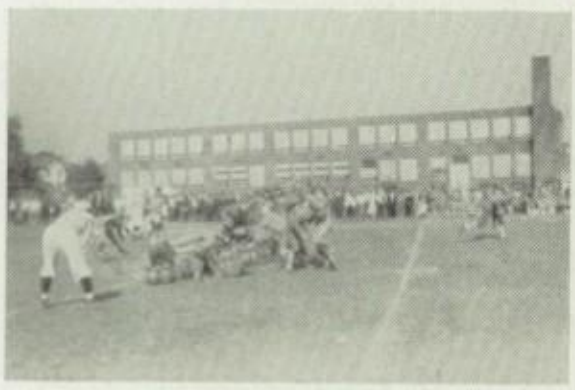
Line plunge gains ground against Patton.

"Stink" Bricker is dropped by Enola lineman.

"Whitey" Laudenslager skirts end for gain.



"Bob" Zink hits stone wall.

Elizabethtown-West York

On Sept. 17, E-town High opened its football season by playing West York on the latter's field. The acting captains for the season were John Schwanger and Robert Zink.

Although the game was a tie, Elizabethtown threatened to score twice during the game. The first time was when a fumble was recovered by Dick Laudenslager far in the West York territory, but we lost the ball on downs. The second break came when Bob Zink ran a punt back 40 yards, but on the third down we lost the ball by a fumble.

Bruce Laudenslager, left tackle, got the high school out of quite a few tight spots by his excellent kicking. The yardage made by his kicks ranged from 40 to 20 yards. Jack Schwanger, co-captain, proved himself to be a very efficient linesman by making most of the tackles.

★

Elizabethtown-Enola

Our second game came just one week later when we met Enola High School on our field. Although our boys played an excellent game, they were overpowered by the Enola eleven. It was by their continuous passing that Enola finally drove over the goal to score six points.

During the second half neither school scored, although the E-town squad threatened once when Bob Zink ran off-tackle for about 23 yards.

★

Elizabethtown-Lititz

On October 2, the Elizabethtown eleven battled against the Lititz squad. With Lititz leading at the half by a large margin, our boys didn't lose any of their fighting spirit.

In the second half the spirit of our fellows was kept high by the continuous encouragement of Co-captain Jack Schwanger.

Bruce Laudenslager's kicking and Robert Zink's running were some of the highlights of the game. Although the boys tried hard, Lititz left that day a victorious team with 20 points to their credit.

★

Elizabethtown-Red Lion

On October 9, our opponents traveled from Red Lion to meet us at 2:30 on the school's athletic field.

Charles Engle, a Sophomore, was added to the starting line this week. He played fullback and he played an excellent game.

It was during this game that Jack Schwanger was injured and replaced by Jim Ney. E-town was close to scoring when, for two consecutive plays, Bob Zink was touchdown bound. But due to a penalty E-town failed to score. Once more Bruce supported his team by his excellent kicking.

Red Lion left that day with 8 points to their credit.

★

Elizabethtown-Shillington

Our opponents came to us from Shillington this week and proved to be a very strong team.

PIGSKIN SEASON

The game at the half was 13–0, in favor of our opponents.

Nevertheless the high school squad came back in the third quarter with new fighting spirit.

During the last few minutes of the last quarter, Bob Zink scored two touchdowns, making the score at the end 13–12.

★

Elizabethtown-Middletown

This time Elizabethtown traveled to Middletown, where we won our first game.

The game ended at the half scoreless. Although Elizabethtown tried hard to score, by completing 7 passes, the Middletown squad succeeded in preventing any scoring.

By the end of the third quarter it looked as if neither team would score.

It was during the fourth quarter when a pass from Zink to Moose put us in scoring position. With only a few minutes to play, Bob Zink, E-town left half, carried the ball across the goal to score the only 6 points of the game.

We won that day, 6–0.

★

Elizabethtown-Patton

On Nov. 7, the big game of the season was played on Patton Field. The Patton eleven was defeated by the Elizabethtown squad by a score of 14–0.

In the first quarter the high school team went from the 25 to the 7 yard line without losing the ball once.

During the second quarter disaster struck our squad, when Robert Nissley and Jack Schwanger were injured. The game at the half was scoreless.

The second half started with two hard-fighting high school teams. Patton tried to score several times by their continuous passes from Dreesen to Dean, but failed.

During the third quarter, a pass meant for Dean was intercepted by Zink who ran 60 yards for a touchdown, giving the high school 6 points. He added to the score when he completed the extra point, making the score at the end of the quarter 7–0.

Close to the end of the last period Zink again won for the high school 7 points, making the score at the end of the game 14–0, our favor.

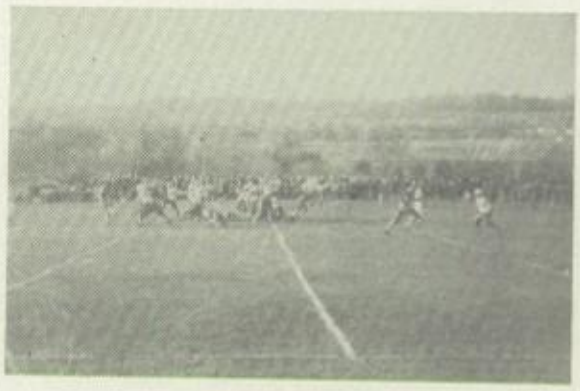
★

Elizabethtown-Ephrata

The last game of the season was played on Nov. 13 against Ephrata High School. With the E-town lineup shy three of its regular men, the game started out to be a good battle.

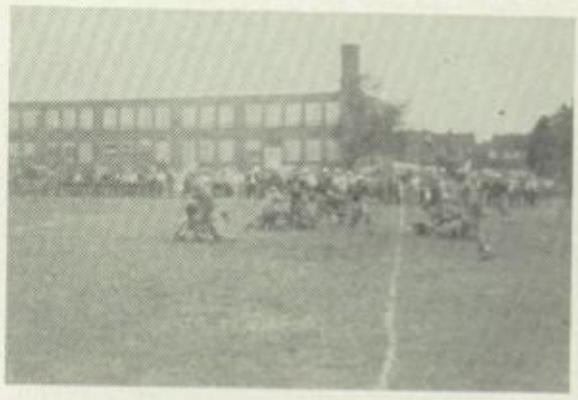
The boys fought hard, but failed to score. Hard luck fell on the team when they lost the ball on the Ephrata 20 yard line. Ephrata scored 7 points in the second period.

The game ended with the score 13–0 and the season ended with our high school winning 2, losing 5, and tying 1 game.



Bruce Laudenslager gets punt off at Patton.

Raffie hits the center against Red Lion.



62 with a lateral works against Ephrata.

COURT SEASON

Tap-off

In opening the season by playing Columbia, we lost by seven little points. This really didn't phase the dribblers, as they knew as well as everyone else they played a good game and could play better ones. Proving their ability, they beat Columbia on the Columbia floor. As the season continued the team really worked itself up by having the best team E-town High School has had in quite a few years.

Leading the team as captain this year was Vernon Bricker. Bricker, the slow and easy type, was really a smooth player. He was wise to all the plays and directed the boys better than anyone did or could do. Bob Zink, jumping center for the team, was the high scoring as well as the high jumping player. Bill Moose, a guard on the team, really started to shine about the middle of the season. Dick Laudenslager, a forward, played nice games. Dick will prove his ability for basketball next year, while his brother Bruce has to do, and is doing, his best by playing guard on the team. George Breneman alternates between guard and forward and you can be sure he does his best, which is pretty good. Harvey Reem played forward and usually played a good floor game. Harvey made nice shots, too. Henry Hitz, a Junior and also forward on the Varsity team, played rings around his opponents. Henry has a good chance of being a star player next year. Paul Stettler played forward and was next to Bob Zink (as far as being high scorer). This being his first year to play with the fellows, Paul really did wonders, as did Bob Zink, both playing with new material.

Under the direction of Mr. John J. Windish, all these fellows played good games and helped to make the team as victorious as it was.

Junior Varsity

Jeanette Sonnon, Betty Cox, Barbara Boggs, Captain, Peggy Lou Risser, Jane Cunningham, Co-Captain.

The cheerleaders deserve much credit for their work this year. The cheerleading department is headed by Mrs. Rohrer and is divided into two squads, Varsity and Junior Varsity. The members of the Varsity squad are Nancy Forney, captain, Beverly Smeltzer, co-captain, Nancy Gingrich, Kathryn Nissley, Fay Gainer, Nancy Gainer, Jane Bashore, Mary Ellen Shank.

The Junior Varsity squad is composed of the following ninth grade girls: Barbara Boggs, captain, Jane Cunningham, co-captain, Betty Cox, Peggy Lou Risser, and Jeanette Sonnon.

While our football and basketball teams were preparing for their games with our opponents the cheerleaders were trying to think of ways of getting the townspeople interested in all of our sport events.

At the first rally of the season the girls did a fine job of leading the student body in the various cheers of our school.

All during the football and basketball season, regardless of what the score was, these girls were constantly doing their best to cheer the boys on to victory.

The Senior girls on the squad are Beverly Smeltzer and Nancy Forney. These two girls have been cheerleaders for six years. They served two years on the Junior High, two years on the Junior Varsity, and two years on the Varsity squad. The cheerleading squad will miss these two girls.

To these two girls and the others on the squad we owe our thanks; it was their enthusiastic spirits and good cheering that kept our spirits high when our score was low.

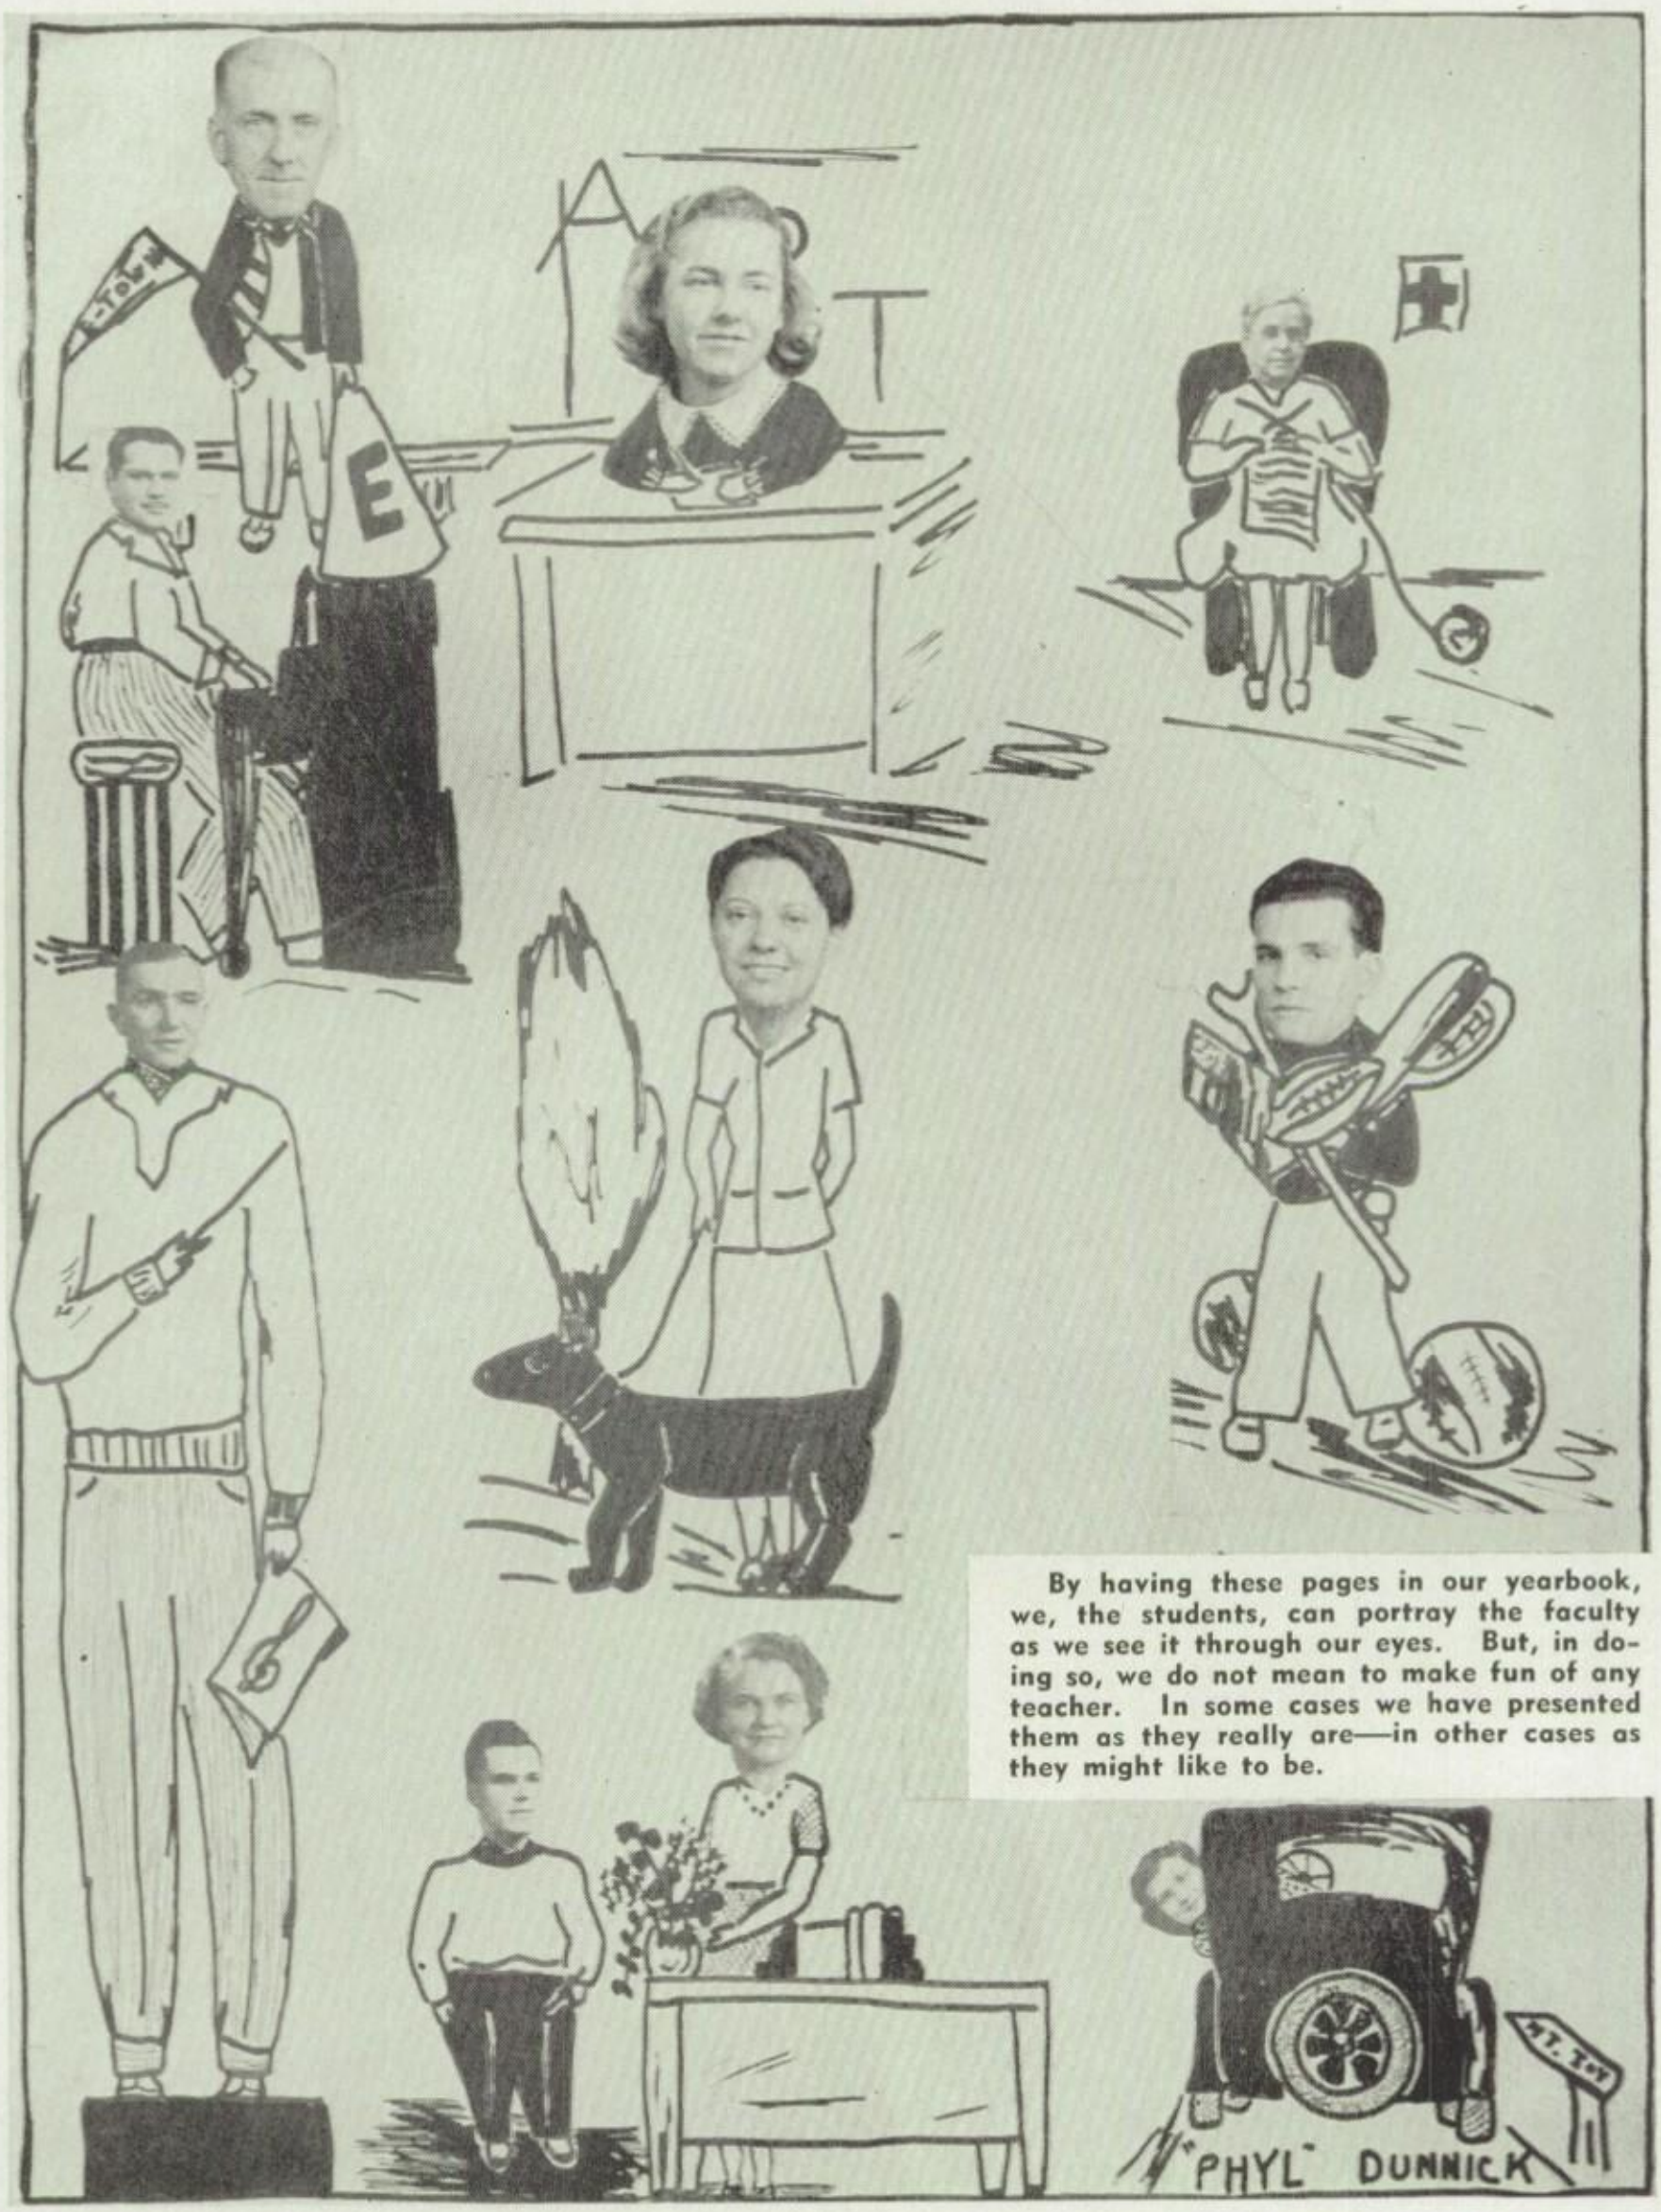
FACULTY OF TOMORROW

★ ★ ★



By having these pages in our yearbook, we, the students, can portray the faculty as we see it through our eyes. But, in doing so, we do not mean to make fun of any teacher. In some cases we have presented them as they really are—in other cases as they might like to be.

★ ★ ★

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

On the 7th of September the world for all school-age children came to a standstill. Yes, you have guessed the answer. It was the first day of school! At the early hour of 8:30 in the morning, four hundred and eighty students filled the classrooms of our grade and high school buildings.

If you could have seen us enter our classrooms that day you would have pitied us.

Although we were all new at the job, and still a little wet behind the ears, we had our mind set on making this a good school term.

While we were settling down and trying to organize the various classes, we were interrupted by a loud ringing bell. It was not the usual bell for dismissal, but it was the air raid alert signal. As the members of the Defense Corps rushed to their assigned posts, the students of our school were ushered to the lower halls.

There we stood, awaiting the signal to return to our classrooms. Upon returning to our classrooms, we were dismissed.

We returned that afternoon at 1 o'clock a little more enthused than we had been in the morning. Our afternoon was made shorter because of a faculty meeting.

We left school that day a very heavy-hearted group, for ahead of us were nine solid months of studying. We are all now too well aware of the fact that school isn't so bad. But, being a proud group, we wouldn't admit it to anyone.

ELIZABETHTOWN SCHOOLS AT WAR

The Minute Man Flag—The flag was acquired last year by a pledge of the student body for ninety per cent. This year it was taken down when the pledge was not fulfilled. It was kept down until the average of ninety per cent was again attained. The average is now being maintained, but each time it is below the flag will be taken down.

Bond Charts—The first bond chart illustrated three types of jeeps: flying, regular, and amphibious. It was filled by the end of December. The second was a thermometer, used last year. The goal was reached on this one by February 1. The third is an illustration of a bomb which has a possible $30,000 on it, which is now the goal.

Model Planes—This is the third year for the work on model planes. One hundred and twenty planes have been completed this year. The planes are then shipped to the Navy Department.

Obstacle Course—The course was built originally by last year's Seniors and rebuilt this year by the boys in 10-2. It had some new obstacles added this year.

Selling Bonds—The bond sales up to February 14 amounted to $14,500.

The War Savings Corps—Sold stamps and bonds in the school and entered into competition with local schools. Pupils volunteered to sell stamps and bonds before school sessions to pupils and received orders from outsiders.

War Posters—These are made by Senior High School art classes and each is an illustration relating to the war. They are to be entered in Victory Poster Contests. These posters are made for the use of the school and the town.

WOMEN'S FACULTY TEAM

Members of the Women's Faculty Team are: Dolores Quinn, Jeanette Barnes, Edna Barnes, Norma Ferguson, Anna R. Hess, Bella Kapp, and Erma Bell. Of all the games they played, Erma Bell was the highest scorer. In the two games between the Junior and Senior girls and the Faculty, Erma Bell had twenty-three points. For the Junior and Senior score, Marguerite Shirk also had twenty-three points. Benefits of the games went to the Red Cross and yearbook.

MEN'S FACULTY TEAM

The members of the Men's Faculty Team are: Mr. Windish, Robert Nissley, Mr. Diehl, Mr. Trimble, Reed Seiders, Mr. Weaver, Joe Brown, Mr. Eppler, and Mr. Goodhart. The highest scorers were Mr. Windish and Mr. Diehl. In the game against the Columbia Faculty, Mr. Windish had twenty points and Mr. Diehl had twelve points. The score was fifty to twenty-five, Elizabethtown Faculty's favor. It was played in Elizabethtown on the 17th of January.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

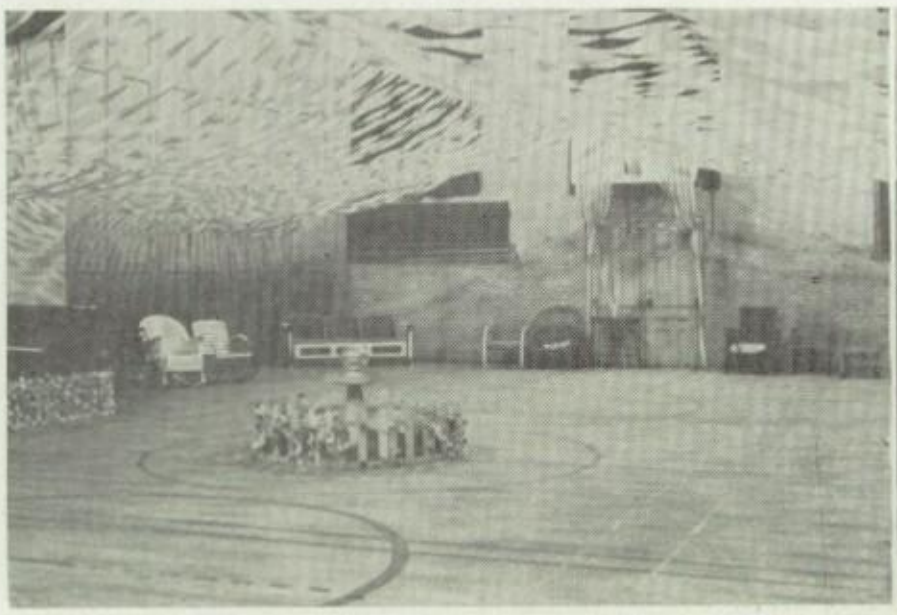
"I'll never forget my first prom!" Yes, that was the way most of the students felt.

The Prom was the big highlight in our young lives. Each girl came decked in her best, with beautiful corsages given to her by her neat-looking escort.

The orchestra was one of the best. To us, at the time, Andy Kerner meant everything. Our first prom, we know, will never be forgotten.

THE YEARBOOK DANCE

The Yearbook Dance was held at the Moose Ballroom on the evening of the twenty-third of December. Les Saunders, a smooth orchestra from Lebanon, furnished us with swing music and dreamy songs. During the first half of the dance everyone was in suspense as to whom the queen of the dance would be. Faye Koser finally announced the queen to be Marie Heilman. Reed Seiders, Marie's escort, presented her with the corsage.



Students have the opportunity to express their talents in the assemblies, which are gatherings of the Junior High one week and the Senior High the next; these gatherings occur only once a month. Individual homerooms assume the responsibility of conducting the program. The programs may be musical or dramatic and are always of the best entertainment.

★ ★ ★

HOMEROOMS AND ASSEMBLIES

★ ★ ★

Once a month the individual homerooms hold a meeting with their homeroom officers presiding. Old business is discharged and new business is discussed. Every pupil has the opportunity to express his or her ideas, while the remainder of the pupils consider the ideas and vote on them. These meetings are mainly for the purpose of giving the students a voice in the school activities.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Miss Calahan, Mildred Werner; Mrs. Grant, Betty Doolittle; Willie Heller, Dale Peiffer; Herbert, Carl Raffensperger; Annabelle, Theda Sweigart; Emma Heller, Nancy Forney; Joe Heller, Fred Auch; Charles Grant, Reed Seiders; Louise Heller, Beverly Smeltzer.

THE FAMILY UPSTAIRS

"The Family Upstairs" was presented by the class of 1944 on December 16 and 17, 1943, and directed by Mr. Seiders.

Emma Heller (Nancy Forney), the mother, is very much worried that her daughter, Louise (Beverly Smeltzer), will never get a husband. Joe Heller (Fred Auch), the father, isn't worried so much about his daughter, but he is worried about his son, Willie (Dale Peiffer), who thus far is without a job. Louise tells the family that a young man by the name of Charles Grant (Reed Seiders) is coming to call on her. Mother does not know that they are engaged, so when Charles comes she immediately tries to put on airs to impress him. "A lot of bluff" is what Father calls it! Then when Miss Calahan (Mildred Werner) comes and explains that $40 a week isn't much for two people to live on, Charlie isn't so sure he has a right to be engaged to Louise. When he tries to explain this to Louise, she is humiliated and calls off the engagement. Up until now Mother has tried to get Louise married, but now Father tries his hand at it. Through Willie he gets Charles to come back and he also has asked Mrs. Grant (Betty Doolittle) and Herbert (Carl Raffensberger) to visit them. Finally, Father tells the whole truth and, as a result, Louise and Charles are reconciled and Annabelle (Theda Sweigart) and Herbert have hit it off rather well, too.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

Adam Wade, Dale Peiffer; Mrs. Carrol, Mildred Werner; Mrs. Smith-Porter, Louise Fisher; Tim Hopper, Jonas Parrett; Patricia Grayson, Nancy Forney; Jimmy Clark, Reed Seiders; Elbert Hastings, Walt Diffenderfer; Bud Flanagan, Carl Raffensperger; Angelina Knoop, Faye Koser; Elsie Crawder, Edith Eckroth; Minnie Knoop, Theda Sweigart.

TYPICAL DAY AT E. H. S.

Let's see what John Student does in a typical day at E.H.S.

He is 17 and awaiting a future in the Armed Forces of the U. S. He is tall, blond, and talkative, and he croons in the shower. As we look in on our hero we see a scene of tranquility. Sure enough, there he is, and it's only 5 minutes to eight on Monday morning!

Wait, he's moving! One of his blue eyes opens slowly to get a look at the clock. Finally they close, but reopen in surprise.

Chorus practice at eight o'clock.

With a speed that would have amazed Cunningham, our hero is out of bed, has splashed water on his face, combed his hair, leaped into a pair of 12 inch pegs and a mild purple coat with green stripes and a red, white and blue tie, and is half way to school.

We now see our hero seated on the stage, crooning away to his heart's delight. (But not to B.B.'s.)

After his vocal session, our typical student finds himself in his first class.

Ho, hum! Too bad they don't furnish pillows. And then he takes a look at his cute little "heart throb" to revive his pulse.

A little later we find that the pangs of hunger have caught up with our hero and he is on his way to lunch, after which he will sojourn to Ira's Emporium for a few minutes of gab.

After an afternoon in which our friend has learned all about brief forms, shop work, and how to mix chemicals, he takes stock of his physical condition for the basketball game in the evening.

John was a star halfback during the football season and a flashing shortstop on the "diamond." He helped E.H.S. win the Patton-E-town game by splendid ball playing. And can he jitterbug! He's right out of this world; how about it, girls? Even if he does run out of gas we know it's not intentional.

CROONING

TYPICAL DAY AT E. H. S.

And now having covered John Student, let's look in on Jo Student.

We find that Jo is already up before the alarm is off and has breakfast ready for the family. Jo, a future WAC, is getting used to early morning arisings.

She has nothing against Frankie, but as yet she hasn't swooned.

It's off to school with an armful of books, for it seems that Jo is not only a "slick chick," but a smart one also.

Jo arrives at school at ten after eight and is all ready to go but gets no rest from the fellows.

"Hey, Jo, how do you enter these accounts?" or "Hey, Jo, did you get theorem 39?", etc., etc. But Jo is a good sport and helps all the fellows, even if she knows that they are looking at her figure instead of the theorems.

The morning bulletin fills Jo's appointment book. Play rehearsal, basketball game (and date), yearbook writeup, newspaper work, etc.

Jo is a hep character and gets along with everyone, especially the boys.

Our heroine now marches into gym class, still getting ready for the WACS, and then the day is over. No books tonight, a big game, and that certain someone is playing.

A faithful cheerer, Jo finds herself hoarse after the E-town victory.

Jo was a faithful rooter for E.H.S. on the gridiron when our team won and when they lost.

Yes, Jo is a typical student

"Our boys the fleetest,
Our girls the sweetest."

Jo and John Student are typical students of E.H.S. They keep up the tradition of our school when our team wins and when our team loses. There are dozens of Jo's and John's, all "faithful and true-hearted" to E.H.S., and these Jo's and John's will carry the traditions of the U.S. and Elizabethtown High School on to the most important victory in the history of the world.

The class everyone enjoys—especially when Miss Roe asks for "tonic" and actually means soda-pop. Although we take dictation all period, we have fun trying to balance equations. This class, with George's questions that sometimes puzzle even Miss Roe, is everyone's favorite, especially lab.

Typing

Anytime you hear music—not the "Cow Cow Boogie" though, you may be sure it is one of Miss Bell's typing classes going full speed. Then the warning of—"Don't throw your carriage so hard!"—which of course goes in one ear and out the other. This class consists mostly of speed tests and, of course, typing.

English

We all appreciate Mr. Seiders, who, through his efforts, has made more than one pupil understand his parts of speech. During the year we read some well-known books like "Silas Marner." Although we know there is a roof on the building, we can't understand why we come out of English class wet!

Bookkeeping

The favorite words of this class are "Psst, do you have your bookkeeping done?" Usually the answer is an emphatic "No!" Bookkeeping, taught by Mr. Weaver, is the class in which you have more than one book to contend with. Did I say "contend"? I mean—"balance"!

Shorthand

What? I thought hieroglyphics are out of date! No, my friend, that is only Miss Bell's shorthand class and the hieroglyphic is shorthand. Miss Bell has discovered that her pupils, like first graders, enjoy writing on the blackboard. This class takes dictation in shorthand and then translates it again—if they can!

Gym (Girls')

Girls' gym, taught by Miss Ferguson, is one round of marching, calisthenics, and basketball. Marching always gives us some laughs, because some girls are never able to obey orders. Calisthenics usually gives us some kind of an ache. Then comes basketball, the sport enjoyed by all, as it gives the girls a chance to show what they can do.

Gym (Boys')

1-2-3-4, 1-2-3-4. It's the familiar voice of Mr. Windish putting the boys through their exercises. Or, "about face," and the boys are doing some fine marching. Then the thud of basketballs, and finally the whistle, and a great game of basketball is started.
